The Hermit and The Teener

By Den Murray

Well, it happened!!

The Hermit of Sierra Madre and the jive-talking Teenager collided headon in the mountain fastnesses above our city. An historic encounter something like Stanley bumping into Dr. Livingston in the bowels of Africa.

Only, this collision came about purely by chance, or fate, as I prefer to believe. Certainly the Teenager was not seeking the Hermit. Nor was the Hermit seeking the Teenager.

Readers will recall that I tried begging, bribery, every dodge I could think of to bring this pair together, always failing through their mutual reluctance.

I had felt that these two highly individualistic, contrasting spokesmen and representatives from widely divided generations might provide an interesting pyrotechnics display while exchanging views on problems of the day.

* * *

IMAGINE, then, my dismay to learn that the clash had occurred in my absence. Yes, while I was down to Santa Anita on Sierra Madre Day attempting futilely to string together a five-horse parlay that could finance a donation to the Lee Shippey Fountain project, the Hermit and the Teenager locked horns.

I have statements from both principals. Because they don't quite jibe in all respects, I supply them below.

* * *

HERMIT: "I was weeding my vegetable patch when all of a sudden my wild friends in the area — birds, deer, squirrels, rabbits, etcetera, came rushing down the canyon like they were fleeing a forest fire.

"I could smell no smoke nor see any. And my four-footed and winged friends were too intent on getting out of the county to pause and explain.

"So I walked up the canyon to investigate. It was then I heard rifle fire, followed by the smashing of glass sound you hear at busy Los Angeles intersections most any normal day.

"Then I heard a ricochet. Bark flew off the bole of a scrub pine right by my ear. This persuaded me to circle around and take 'em from the rear.

"Three boys with .22 rifles were shooting at pop bottles and scattering the glass fragments through the tinder-dry mesquite.

"I told them they were in Los Angeles National Forest violating at least three forestry regulations. That scattering glass in dry brush which is heated to inflammable properties later in the season was about the surest way of starting a forest fire I knew of."

* * *

TEENAGER: "Me an' my buddies was knockin' off some Coke bottles we'd emptied—not botherin' nobody—when this dug up, dried up old character snuck up on us from behind.

"I thought he was a ghost an' almost potted him. He spots a dove one of us had bagged an' starts tickin' off the hunting laws.

"Closed season an' all that. An' where was our hunting licenses? An' didn't we know we shouldn't be smoking or bustin' Coke bottles that might start a fire?

"We told him we didn't see no star on his chest an' go play with the rest of the squirrels.

"I knew by now he was the old guy you call the Hermit in the paper, and have been trying to get me to meet. You must be further gone than I thought."

* * *

HERMIT: "The boys weren't interested in fire prevention. One offered me a cigaret. Another said he guessed I must be rich like all old misers who lived alone and never spent any money for tobacco, liquor, girls, clothes,

Civic Club Gives 130 Rosebushes For Park

Roses of many hues — 130 bushes of them — planted between newly-created curved walks in Sierra Madre Memorial Park, are the gift of the Sierra Madre Civic Club to the City of Sierra Madre.

Facing Hermosa and visible from Sierra Madre Blvd., the roses, selected by Leonard Barrett, will provide a spot of beauty in "downtown Sierra Madre."

"Civic Club members, who decided upon the rose garden as major philanthropy and service to the community, are particularly grateful to Mr. Barrett and to the members of the Park Department who built the walks and rose beds, for their generous assistance with this project," says Mrs. Bryce Tyler, philanthropy chairman of the Civic Club. "Without their advice and help, we could not have done the job as quickly nor as well."

THE ROSE GARDEN is the latest of several contributions of the Civic Club during the 1960-61 club year.

In addition to decorating the business district at Christmas time and conducting the Mothers' March of Dimes, the Civic Club has given financial assistance to Mariner Ships "Novia del Mar" and "Sea Nymph," to the Camp Fire Girls and Little League, and has made possible purchase of a Dictionary of National Biography for the Sierra Madre Library.

Girl Scout Rally Will Feature Tree Presentation

Girl Scout Rally Day this Saturday will feature presentation of a Girl Scout rosebush to Councilman Ralph R. Rule as a gift to the new rose garden in Memorial Park which has been set under way by the Civic Club.

The program, to be presented in Memorial Park, from 1 to 3 o'clock, includes the flag ceremony, by Troop 504; folk dancing, Troops 511 and 513; canoeing demonstration by Troop 520; overnight camp setup by Troop 507; cookout setup by Troop 512; disaster setup and feeding of Brownie troop by Troop 503; display of badgework by Troop 511; firewood display by Troop 510; craftwood display by Troop 514, and Troop 505 will sell soft drinks. Troop 510 will sell ice cream bars.

All profits go to purchase additional rosebushes for Memorial Park exhibit. There will also be a large table of community service projects of all troops.

CHAIRMAN for the event is Mrs. LeRoy Toms, neighborhood chairman, Mrs. Milton Valois. Representing Troop 513 are Jane Danowsky and Patty Poolman; Troop 504 — Cecelia McNamara and Kathie Hall; Troop 512—Susan Oldham and Carlin Verreaux; Troop 510—Mary Matakovich and Helen Armstrong; Troop 511 —

Fashion Show To Feature Easter Garb

Mel McCoy, talented Sierra Madre actress, will be commentator for an "Easter Parade of Fashion" dessert style show scheduled for 2 p.m. Saturday, March 11, in Pritchard Hall of the Congregational Church, under auspices of the Women's Fellowship.

Mrs. Paul Narcowich will direct the models as they display a variety of spring syles from the Gullet and Harris store in Sierra Madre. Parading the clothes will be Miss Sue Murphy, Mrs. Thomas Edwards, Mrs. Sam Schwartz, Mrs. Herbert Seifelt and Mrs. Helen Haas.

MRS. EDWARD MURPHY, show chairman, reports that there will be many door prizes from Sierra Madre merchants. Donors include the Wistaria Flower Shop, Wistaria Beauty Shop. ## Hartman Named For School Board Post

The Sierra Madre Board of School Trustees Monday night chose Rudolph R. Hartman of 460 N. Lima, veteran owner and operator of the Hartman-Rexall Pharmacy, 29 N. Baldwin, to succeed Arthur G. Albertson, recently resigned from the board.

Mr. Hartman, who served on the board from 1930 to 1940, will hold the post with the rest of the board until the Sierra Madre Elementary School District is formally annexed with the Pasadena School District on July 1.

THE BOARD approved plans detailed by Supt. Robert E. Walker for Public School Night, Friday, March 24, from 7 to 9 o'clock. Mrs. Marrie Casey, clerk of the board, will greet the parents and other visitors at Sierra Mesa School, while Claude H. Brown Jr., board member, will officiate in this capacity at Sierra Madre School.

Once again the Sierra Madre Lodge of Masons will offer first and second prizes for the best posters while the PTA will likewise present two awards for the best essays written by the pupils.

Mrs. Carl Cheadle, PTA president, will pick the PTA member to make the presentations while the same will be done for the Masons by Dr. Raymond B. Pease.

Mrs. Terry Is New Chief At Library

During its meeting at the Public Library Tuesday night, the board announced appointment of Mrs. Josephine R. Terry, 31, as city librarian to succeed Miss Ruth King who resigned last December to accept a similar post at the Azusa library.

Mrs. Terry who, with her husband, recently removed from Miami, Fla., to San Gabriel, was librarian for one of the Miami Public Library branches. The Sierra Madre salary is $500 a month.

The appointment follows weeks of deliberation by the board during which candidates were narrowed down to three from which Mrs. Terry was chosen. She will assume her duties Monday.

Transfer for 207 Students

The Pasadena Board of Education, at behest of a Citizens Conference Group, Tuesday night approved a move which next fall will send 207 Sierra Madre students to Wilson Junior High instead of Marshall Junior High where they now attend.

The move is designed to lift the student load from Marshall, now overcrowded. Distance to the two schools is about the same

S. M. Fireman's Annual Easter Egg Hunt, April 1

Easter is only a matter of a few weeks now—Sunday, April 2, is the date.

So, plans for the annual Easter Egg Hunt for the youngsters—with the elders standing on the sidelines and "egging" them on—are under way by the Sierra Madre Volunteer Fire Department which has staged this event for many years.

This big spring event will be held Saturday, April 1, at 10 a.m. in Memorial Park.

Approximately 125 dozen eggs will be colored by firemen and their families and scattered about the park for the children to pick up—first come, first served, providing they are fleet of foot, with top eyesight.

There will be 36 Golden Eggs hidden and to be redeemed through presentation of fancy Easter baskets to the finders. Boys and girls up to 11 years of age are eligible.

Bevington Provides Encouraging Figures

Progress in Sierra Madre as a community is reflected in a special report compiled for the SIERRA MADRE NEWS by City Administrator Lawrence C. Bevington showing that expenditures for last year and this, plus projected improvements, will have entailed the sum of $834,500.

If this is coupled with private building expenditures, the sum will easily exceed $1 million, especially with new apartment houses under construction or projected, and the new post office to be erected on S. Baldwin as soon as the Suffolk St. extension deadlock is broken.

Our Market Managers

Milt Piuma

EDITOR'S NOTE — This is third of series of stories on managers of markets in the Sierra Madre, Hastings Ranch and Rosemead-Foothill areas. Markets have become big business, with many ramifications, and so, the men who directly manage them are enterprisers of more than ordinary import. Another of these stories will appear next week.

By Martha Sharp

MILT PIUMA, the always courteous and accommodating manager of Vons and Shopping Bag Food Stores in Hastings Ranch, is a real native son, born along the beautiful California coast near San Luis Obispo.

This is where he went to grammar and high school and enjoyed all the wonderful childhood world of hunting and camping in the hills, fishing, sailing and boating in the Pacific Ocean.

His maternal grandparents were cattle raisers, but Milt spent his summers in Southern California with his father's folks who were industrially engaged in the retail grocery business and wine manufacturing. (His family is one of the branches of the famous Piuma vinters).

"Grandfather opened the first general merchandising store in San Gabriel Valley," he relates. "It was in El Monte on the old Durfee road and he sold everything from barrel flour and baby buggies to washtubs."

LATER MILT went to the University of Santa Clara and USC and then joined his family in the grocery business in the old Plaza section in Los Angeles.

The fall of 1950 he went to work as a marker for the

Bob Green Now Joins 'Silly Old Grandpa' Unit

Robert H. Green, the cheerful manager of the Southern California Edison Co. setup, 40 N. Baldwin. is now more cheerful than ever—he's joined the "Silly Old Grandpappies With Picture in Pocket" unit in Sierra Madre, thus aligning himself with other grandpaps such as Harry Lange, Don Jackson, John McKibben and John H. Curtis.

Bob on Sunday became a grandfather for the first time when a daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Blake at Berkeley. The latter is a daughter of the Greens. Mr. and Mrs. Green plan a trip to Berkeley later this week.

Businessmen Told by Todt To Fight Reds

Businessmen and industrialists were bluntly told to "lay it on the line" and to leave nothing undone in the battle against Communists, Pinkos and fellow-travelers by George Todt, Los Angeles Herald - Express columnist, speaking Tuesday before more than 100 Kiwanians and their guests at the Woman's Clubhouse, 270 W. Sierra Madre Blvd.

Kiwanian guests were present from Monrovia, Arcadia, Altadena, South Pasadena and other points. Todt, war veteran and a man of huge stature, minced no words

Wind and Baseball Bat Figure in Two Freak Mishaps

Two freak accidents last week plagued relatives of Sierra Madreans and in each instance hospitalization of the victims was necessary.

Those injured were:

Mrs. Leo (Bess) Jacobs of Los Angeles and Palm Springs, sister-in-law of Dr. Nathan Jacobs of 80 W. Sierra Madre Blvd.—severe cuts about face. Hospitalized at Desert Hospital, Palm Springs. Heavy winds caused the accident.

Gail Udell, 23, son of Vernon A. Udell of Duarte, and formerly of Sierra Madre—his grandmother is Mrs. James M. Udell of 154 San Gabriel Court—in Sierra Madre Hospital with a compound fracture of one arm suffered while swinging a bat during a ball game at Heasley Field.

DR JACOB'S sister-in-law and her husband were at their winter home in Palm Springs when a heavy wind arose.

Hearing noise like the tearing of roofing paper at the rear they decided to spend the night in a Palm Springs hotel.

Before they could start the car the roof was ripped off the rear patio and sent flying over the front of the house, striking and smashing the car's windshield and damaging its roof.

Mrs. Jacobs was severely cut about the face by broken glass, requiring treatment at the hospital. Dr. Jacobs drove to Palm Springs Friday night to help care for his sister-in-law.

UDELL WAS injured in a remarkable mishap attended by unusual circumstances. A printer by trade, he was at bat during a ball game at Heasley Field.

Onlooking was his little daughter, "Cindy," 2½, who has been in a cast for some time because of a bone ailment in her back.

There was a sudden crack as Udell took a healthy swing at the ball—and missed.

The immediate, intense pain caused him to drop the bat. Medical examination showed a double or compound fracture of the arm.

Methodist Women Will Hear Holman

Dr. Calvin C. Holman will bring a Lenten message to the next meeting of the Sierra Madre Methodist Women's Society, Tuesday, March 14, at 10 a.m. Dr. Holman is widely known to Methodists here as he has frequently served the church in Dr. McPheeter's absence.

A progress report from Mrs. Wesley Hole, chairman of the Naomi Circle, and a devotional period led by Mrs. Theodore James, will precede Dr. Holman's talk. Hostesses will be Mrs. Jesse Albright and Mrs. Wilder Reynolds. Mrs. Orrel Merrihew has coordinated the program.

Luncheon, to be served following the meeting, will be prepared by the Sarah Circle, whose chairman is Mrs. Charles Milton. Proceeds from donations to the luncheon will be sent to the Brooks-Howell Home for Retired Workers.

Mrs. Tarbox's Art To Be Exhibited

The works of Mrs. Patricia Tarbox of Pasadena will be exhibited at La Salle High School on March 23 from 7 to 10 p.m., and on March 24, 25 and 26 from 2 to 4 p.m. The art media on display will be a combination of egg tempera on gesso oil, and water color mosaic.

Mrs. Tarbox describes her work as "contemporary," although the subject matter is not abstract. Some of the early works done on gesso are Byzantine in feeling, and some possess a primitive approach, as in "Alcatraz."

Gets Promotion

JAMES F. TUTTLE who with his wife resides at 95 W. Carter, field salesman for the Bristol-Myers Products Division, has been promoted to district manager for the company's Western Division, headquarters at 3460 Wilshire Blvd., Los Angeles. He joined the company in 1956.

Plant Trees Arbor Day

The Los Angeles State and County Arboretum at 301 N. Baldwin Ave., Arcadia, was the locale Arbor Day (Tuesday) for distribution of 2,000 trees to children in observance of "Plant-a-Tree Week," March 5-11.

County Supervisor Frank G. Bonelli participated in the Arcadia observance, with the trees donated by the Rosedale Nurseries of Monrovia.

The San Gabriel Council, Boy Scouts of America, participated in the Arcadia ceremony, and also at the observance in Descanso Gardens in La Canada where Supervisor Warren M. Dorn officiated.

The Scouts planted three Eucalyptus Forrestianna in the Arboretum and a California redwood (Sequoia Gigantea) in the Descanso Native Plant Garden.

Ruth Thurber's Pastels of Desert Scenes Are Subject For One-Man Show Here

An invitational one-man show of Ruth Thurber's California desert landscapes in pastel will hang for the month of March at the Sierra Madre Woman's Club, 270 W. Sierra Madre Blvd.

Included in the exhibition is her "Desert Sunset" which was given an award of second place in the pastel division, Pasadena Art Fair, last September, and where the public voted her work as second in popularity among 800 exhibits.

Some of her paintings will be included in the May exhibit of the Pasadena Chapter of the National Arts and Letters Society at the Pasadena Public Library during May and will hang in an invitational one-man show during July and August at the gallery of The Home Savings and Loan Association in Pasadena.

WHEN ASKED where she had studied and for how long, Mrs Thurber explained:

"I have not studied anywhere with anyone. I have been working seriously only about six months and have had no teaching other than that which comes from within when in prayerful meditation.

"I began my work as a spiritual experiment out of my deep desire to paint the California desert in its lovely soft glows, and as the result of many adventures with prayer through the past several years."

180 Attend Daughters', Fathers' Fete

Approximately 180 persons participated in the annual Camp Fire Girls Father-Daughter Dinner at the Don Benito School last Friday evening.

The tables were gaily decorated in a birthday theme in recognition of Camp Fire Girls' 50th anniversary, and all fathers joined in singing "Happy Birthday" to this organization which for half a century has had as its aim the building of character and the development of skills through leisure time activity based on learning by doing.

Everyone greatly enjoyed the skits which had to do with Camp Fire Girl activities, such as crafts, ceremonials, conservation, peanut selling, meetings and council fires.

THE O-DA-KI-TA GROUP, seventh grade at Marshall Junior High School, who recently graduated from the "Gems" course, presented a skit showing the difference between an untrained baby sitter and a "Gems" (Good Emergency Mother Substitute) trained girl.

Honored guests were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Shutman, principal of Don Benito School; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hawkins, principal of Sierra Madre School, and Mrs. Paul Zimmer, district director for Sierra-Hastings District.

Pete Hurtig, member of the district committee, was master of ceremonies, and S. C. Deal, chairman of the district committee, gave the welcome. Arrangements for the dinner were made by Mrs. Robert Bettencourt, program chairman for the district committee.

Pupils Offer Dances, Skits

Songs and skits by the various grades featured an assembly held last Friday by the Sierra Madre Elementary School.

The second grade offered two dances: "A Hunting We Will Go" and "I See You."

President James Schaefer of the fifth grade detailed the meaning of the word "Constitution," explaining its provisions read by Vice President Nancy Dane.

When all of the Constitution had been read it was voted on by the Student Body and approved by a two-thirds majority.

Annual Party At St. Rita's On March 17

When "Pretty Kitty Kelly" returned to Ireland last year after visiting St. Rita's Holy Name Society's annual St. Patrick's party, she took with her some of the episodes of American television.

"TV Goes to Ireland" is the title of the program to be presented by St. Rita's unorthodox players at the annual St. Patrick's party given by the society this year in the Parish Hall, on Friday evening, March 17.

Frank Parks, president and director of the program, announces this year's entertainment will be the best ever presented by his thespians, and urges all who plan to attend to be there no later than 8 p.m.

The program will open with the sme chorus which performed so "gracefully" last year—Bill Mulleavy, Joe Hinijos, Walter Fleming, Joe Delgatto and Nash Caven. Charles Waters is accompanist.

A SCENE from "Medic" will star Virgil Archambault as the doctor, Dick Judge as the nurse, Tony DePasco as the patient, and John Stitch and Julian Vecchione as assisting doctors.

"Gunsmoke" will present Albert Sommerfield as Matt Dillon, Jules Ruggles as Chester, Carlyle Griffin as Kitty, John Englert as Doc, Art Passage as guest vocalist, Russel Hardy as bartender, and Brian McGoldrick, Julian Vecchione and Virgil Archambault as outlaws.

Dancing to Ralph's Serenaders will follow the entertainment and refreshments will be served. Tickets may be obtained from any of the officers of the Holy Name Society. Proceeds are used for the annual school picnic for the children.

Garden Club To Hear Talk About Violets

With its president, Dr. Francis W. Maxstadt, presiding, the Sierra Madre Garden Club at its dinner meeting in Woman's Clubhouse, 270 W .Sierra Madre Blvd., Monday will hear Mrs. Cecil Houdyshel of La Verne discuss "Care of African Violets." Mr. Houdyshel will demonstrate with plants.

Reservations are in charge of Msr. T. Adelaide Miller, ELgin 5-9280, while Mrs. Harold Spears is in charge of table decorations.

Dinner will be at 6:30 p.m., with the program an hour later. The usual plant sale will follow.

VILLA VIEWS

By Toni Maurin
SY 7-9634

I, for one, am so sick of complaining about the weather as I sweep away the remains of my crumbling complexion like a pile of dry old crackers.

I can remember when, I relate sadly to my children, when you could count on the 'RAINS' starting just about the time you wanted to do your Christmas shopping. They used to go on intermittently until along in late March or April.

Then they started seeding the clouds and doing all of the fancy things that mettoroligists do. I'm just sure that our rain landed somewhere in the state of Washington or maybe Nevada.

Well I'm off to the sprinklers again and then quickly back to the lotions and creams! Zounds, whatta life.

THERE'S A MOVE on foot to change the name of "Old House Rd" to "Old Horse Rd." Chrissy Chapman is the latest to take to the ponies with the aquisition of a horse last week. The Charles Henevelds are planning to move their two in this week.

* * *

AND SPEAKING of horses. Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Pyle of the street of which we were speaking, came home from the horse show at the Indio Date Festival with more Blue Ribbons for their already overcrowded trophy case.

Mr. Pyle won three Blues in the Fine Harness Horse Class, driving "Something Blue."

With the remainder of their entries they won another Blue Ribbon, two seconds, and several thirds. Their daughter Julie was unable to ride in this meet due to illness.

* * *

MRS. JAMES SMART of Sierra Madre Villa was hostess last week at a bridge luncheon for her club. Her guests were Mesdames Franklin Hahn, Ed Cline, Joseph Failing, Charles Goldsworthy, Douglas Porter, Clell Birlenbach, Stanley Henry and George Forest.

* * *

HEARD OF a couple of new granchildren up in the Kinneloa Area. Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Deitzel of Meyerloa Lane became grandparents of a baby girl, born to their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Deitzel, who are living with them for the time being. The baby was born Feb. 15 at St. Luke Hospital and weighed in at five pounds, eight ounces. They have called her Elizabeth Helen. The young Deitzels also have a 16-month-old son, Andy.

* * *

MR. AND MRS. R. NEAL BATTERSON of Doyne Rd. shared their joy with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Batterson of San Gabriel. They had a 7-pound, 15-ounce daughter born on Feb. 27 at Queen of Angels Hospital. They call her her Debra Jean. Debra has a 3-year-old sister, Cynthia, and a 2-year-old brother, Mike.

The Battersons, incidentally, were hosts this last week for the Y's Men's Club bridge dessert. Their group included Mr. and Mrs. Hal Berg, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rubsaman, Dr. and Mrs. Ed Weld, Mr. and Mrs. Dent Dowler, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ochs.

* * *

MRS. JOSEPH PHELPS of Old House Rd. was hostess last week for the Sigma Kappa Sorority, Pasadena Area Alumnae. After the meeting she served luncheon and then they played bridge. There were about 18 members attending.

* * *

MR. AND MRS. C. N. MATHIEU of Villa Heights Rd. have been beating a path between here and Beverly Hills, visiting with some out-of-town friends who are in the area for a brief vacation.

Last Friday evening they gave a dinner party in their home to honor Mr. and Mrs. Charles Manhart who are here from Summit, N.J.

Other out-of-towners included Ed Querner from Pennsylvania, and Mr. and Mrs. Lou Airkson, also from Pennsylvania. The local guests were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wiancko and Mrs. Lamar Hart.

* * *

CHRIS CRANE, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hitt Crane Jr., of Old House Rd., celebrated her eighth birthday anniversary with a "Horse" theme party. All of their games and decorations were centered around this motif with each of the young guests carting off symbolic favors.

Her guests were Melissa Mueller, Jeanie Philipson, Patricia Hurter, Debbie Maurin, Cind-dy Brittell, Sheey Olin, Susan Bandy, Sherri Crane, Mark Sanders, Charlie Goldsworthy, David Major, Gregg White and Bryan Sandberg.

"GOING PLACES" is the title of the show Eugene Field PTA will present next Thursday, Friday and Saturday, and here are three of the principals who will make patrons glad they are attending: Mrs. Darrell A. Wright, Ted Topits and Mrs. David A. Elmer combine in a pioneer, cow gal and Indian skit.

UP ON . . . Hastings Hill

By Joyce Wenger
SYcamore 8-4777

THE PLAY'S THE THING! That's the focus of the news throughout Hastings this week ,and I, for one, am looking forward to seeing all three of the so-called amateur productions. There seems to be no end to the talent found here in the Ranch.

I took a peek at some of the scenery, costumes and production numbers of each of the shows and concluded they all have that polished professional look. But be they amateur or professional, all participants seem to be having a wonderful time, and so will we, their audience.

* * *

SNEAK previews at Don Benito auditorium indicate that "Trottin' The Globe" jet flights are going to be on schedule. I hear that tickets are selling at a fast pace. Call Helen Krugman, EL 5-3614 for tickets.

A few will be available at each evenings performance, but don't take a chance. March 10 and 11 are just one and two nights away! Don Benito PTA promises the children, parents and friends of their school a wonderful extravaganza trip round-the-world. See you there!

* * *

EUGENE FIELD PTA fun show, "Goin' Places" is creating sounds of music these days, not generally heard in the halls of Field School.

The show's passengers will be taken on a world tour starting in San Francisco, and arriving in Hawaii via the Great Northwest, the Ozarks, New Orleans, New York, and on across the ocean to London, Paris, Spain, Africa, and Japan. Don't miss this opportunity to make your dreams of a world tour come true.

Take advantage of the reduced rates— not pay as you go, not pay later, but pay now, a price you can afford. Children 50 cents and adults 75 cents. Departure is scheduled from Eugene iFeld Cafeterium at 7:30 p.m. on March 16, 17 and 18. Call Barbara Hyde EL 5-2222, for your reservation, and you'll be "Goin' Places!"

* * *

GLADY, newest member of Shakespeare Juniors, is a delightful surprise to all who meet her. When we met the other day, she literally flashed a smile revealing the most sparkling teeth I've ever seen, and oh, when she rolls those big blue eyes . . . Well, you'll just have to see her for yourself, and you can, by buying a ticket to the Shakespeare Juniors forthcoming play, "The Cleanest Profession," March 16, 17, or 18.

The creative genius of the authors, Chuck and Betty Coates, inspired talented Jack Stubbs and Wes Anderson to produce the fabulous Gladys, who believe me, will be the hit of the show.

The Coates, who reside at 3645 Hampton, wrote aplay in collaboration with another couple, two years ago. Betty has also played many a leading role in past productions. When not writing clever lyrics and dialogue, Chuck sells Fairchild sound cameras.

Obviously, the productions nearest and dearest to the Coates are their children, ages four and seven, and the twins, 14 months old.

* * *

THERE WILL BE lepricans, shamrocks, and the wearing of the green, Saturday night when members of the Hastings Ranch Dance Club gather at the new Civil Defense Center for dinner and dancing.

Planning the club's affair this month are Carl and Polly Johnson, Russ and Doris Pooler, Al and Robbie Pruitt, and Stan and Dot Taylor.

I understand that dinner will be in keeping with the Saint Patricks theme, up to and including the Irish stew!

Preceeding an evening of dancing, members will have one hour of instruction in Latin-American dancing from Albert and Rosalind Rabin, of the DeWald Studio. What, no Irish jig??

* * *

UPPER HASTINGS friends are sorry to hear that the family of Navy Capt. Charles J. Beers, 1170 Daveric Dr., will soon be leaving. Chuck has received his orders and will report to the Industrial College of the Armed Forces in Washington, D.C., for the class which starts this summer.

He is widely-known as the officer in charge of the Naval Ordnance Test Station and for his work as a Boy Scout Leader.

June has been busy serving on the Marshall PTA Board for two years, working as a volunteer at Methodist Hospital, and co-teacher, with Chuck, of an 8th grade Sunday School class.

Son Skipper, an Eagle Scout, is a familiar figure all over the area for his Scout work, his faithfulness as a paper boy, and his versatility in doing gardening and odd jobs during the summer.

Daughter Sue is on the Student Council at Marshall, a member of the Honor Society, and a most popular young baby sitter on Daveric Dr.

Obviously, this is a family who will be sorely missed in our community, but will carry with them the sincere best wishes of their many friends!

* * *

HASTINGS gals learning the technique of making beautiful Mosaics from talented teacher, John Christenson, are Mesdames Lorraine Smith, Vernon Leif, Jeanne Cummiskey, Rolf Fromme, and Robert Marimon.

* * *

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE PASTRE have returned to their Hastings Ranch adobe, after living it up and loving it, at the Grand Bahama Inn, on Bahama Island! En route they visited relatives, Evelyn and William Ross, in Williamsburg, Va. Incidentally, the Ross family are former Hastings Ranch residents.

* * *

THERE IS ALSO news this week of two families that once called the Ranch their home. Flossie Semple, (formerly on Tropical), has returned to California from Scotsdale, Arizona, and is now living at Malibu Beach. Planning to journey out for a visit with her are Ethel Asher, Hazel Gittinger, and Robbie Pruitt.

* * *

MR. AND MRS. STEWART McILVENNAN, who once resided on Cartwright, now call Wheat Ridge, Colorado, their home. Marie reports their three sons love it, but it will take her a while to adjust to the change in climate.

* * *

HAWAII IN '62 OR BUST! That's the theme for a community breakfast to be given by Girl Scout Mariner Troop Te Vega, April 8 from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m., at our local Vons-Shopping Bag market Save the date, one and all!

* * *

IF YOU'VE INTENDED buying a 50-star flag, but just haven't gotten around to it, may I suggest you purchase one from Explorer Post 383. They are selling the flag complete with a pole and mounting bracket for only $4.95, at Skipper Beer's home at 1170 Daveric Dr. I can't think of a more beautiful sight than to see our American flag flying at every home on the next national holiday.

Shakespeare Club Juniors Jesters Prepare Debut of 'The Cleanest Profession'

"Miss Rhinegold," "Miss America" and "Miss Universe" had best look to their laurels as "Miss Cleanso" will be selected when the Jesters present "The Cleanest Profession" on Thursday, March 16, through Saturday, March 18, at 8:30 p.m. in the Shakespeare Club Auditorium, 230 S. Los Robles.

The Jesters, the drama section of the Shakespeare Club Juniors, are once again putting on an original musical comedy written by a husband and wife team, Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Coates.

The play concerns a large soap manufacturing company, the Cleanso Soap Company, who in an effort to promote their product hold a personality contest. Scientific selection of "Miss Cleanso" by an electronic brain is complicated by an all too-human weakness which the machine develops.

FUN AND excitement result when the final contestants embark on a trip around the world, becoming involved along the way with such characters as His Royal Fatness, the Sultan of Bangamore, as the loveable Oriental Beatnik, Sessue Kakameimi and One Eye Riley, stalwart defender of liberty in the Caribbean. These antics are generously laced with singing and dancing which add up to three fun-packed evenings.

According to the playwrites, Betty and Chuck Coates, "it is guaranteed that this play will not jeopardize the work of any of the masters. Neither will it fade, bleach or run!"

Mrs. Edwin E. Easterling is chairman of the Jesters and in charge of the production. She is being assisted by Mesdames John E. Robinson, John B. LaBosky and T. A. D. Fessenden.

SCENERY DESIGN is being done by Jackson Lee Stubbs, assisted by Messrs. Henry Foes, Wesley E. Anderson, Clifton Robinson, Richard Seaman, Robert L. Paul and Mesdames George E. Berger and William M. Reitzell. Mrs. George F. Gillmore is in charge of costumes and Mrs. Jack A. Lamp of makeup. Mesdames John E. Wells and Curtis E. Wyatt are collecting stage properies. Mrs. John Robinson is publiciy chairman and Mrs. John LaBosky, chairman of tickets.

Among the cast of more than 50 players are Mesdames Henry Foes, Alfred S. Wach, William R. Allen, F. S. Humphrey, James Coleman, Messrs. David C. Bass, Cecil Hicks, Richard E. Ratliff, Hugh J. Simpson, Ted Easterling, Stuart N. Cypherd, Jack A. Lamp and Messrs. and Mesdames Peter Tilton, E. Jerry Hendrickson, Calvin K. Casey, Jack Riker and Frederick W. Drury Jr.

The play is being directed by a professional director, Dick Morelli, assisted by August LeBoeuf. The choreographer is Stan Zalas. Tickets are available from Junior members and will be on sale at the boxoffice.

Left Turns Approved

N. S. Ridgeway, leasing agent, has informed tenants in the Foothill-Rosemead Shopping Center that the California State Highway Commission has approved left turns into each entrance of Foothill Blvd.

This makes it legal for shoppers who are driving east on Foothill Blvd. to make a left hand-signal turn into each entrance of the Rosemead-Footfiill Shopping Center only, without being cited for a traffic violation by the California State Highway Patrol.

The new traffic regulation will facilitate parking convenience for the Center's customers.

Art Fair Will Display Work By Children

March has been designated nationally as Children's Art Month. To celebrate this interesting aspect of pre-school experience, the Hastings Ranch Nursery School at 3740 East Sierra Madre Blvd., will hold a Children's Art Fair on Thursday morning, March 9 from 9 to 11:30 o'clock at the school.

Featured will be an exhibit of typical and special examples of work done by the children at the various preschools. This will include colleges, finger paints, easel paints, dribble painting, styrofoam three-dimensionals and possibly others.

Along with the exhibit children will go about their work as usual in the various mediums so that it will be possible for interested adults to observe how some of these "treasures" come about.

ASSISTING and contributing to the exhibit are 12 other nursery schools, members of the San Gabriel Valley Council of Coop Nursery Schools, including Oneonta of South Pasadena, Altadena Coop Nursery School, Arcadia Nursery School, Valley Preschool of Claremont, First Methodist Coops of Glendale and Alhambra, the Crescenta-La Canada Nursery School, Duarte Coop Nursery School, Highland Park Nursery School, the Montrose (Canada) Coop Nursery School, and the Pomona Nursery School.

Bureaucracy at Sacramento Increases State Employes 203.9 Per Cent Since 1945

By Henry C. MacArthur

SACRAMENTO—(CNS)—Continuing claims of bureaucracy that increasing costs of government are due primarily to the population increase in California and shrinking value of the dollar, just aren't so, according to Assemblyman Harold Levering (R-Santa Monica).

To prove his point, Levering had the legislative analyst's office develop a set of figures involving the number of state employes since 1945, estimated population, expenditures per capita, tax collections, revenues and expenditures.

In 1945, the chart points out, the population of the state totaled 8,303,000. The estimate for 1962 is 16,683,000, a percentage increase of 109 per cent.

THE CHART shows that in 1945, there were 39,500 state employes. In 1962 the administration will require 120,031 employes, an increase of 203.9 per cent. In other words, government employment by the state has gone up nearly 100 per cent more than the population increase. Levering would like to know why?

The budget of $313.5 million in 1934 provided for the necessary services for the more than eight million population.

But the current budget of $2,585,115,000 represents an increase of 724.6 per cent. Again, the assemblyman, and a good many others, would like to know why?

Levering says that if the dollar value in 1945 were taken into consideration, the 1961-62 budget would have increased more than 400 per cent anyhow.

PER CAPITA expenditures by government have increased from $37.75 in 1945 to $154.96 at the present time.

Per capita tax collections increased from $47.50 to $138.02 at present.

The difference in expenditures, which are higher than per capita tax collections, is accounted for through the increased spending of bond money by state government, Levering says.

"THIS ADMINISTRATION," the assemblyman declares, "and all previous Administrations since 1945, have contended that there are two reasons for this increase in cost of government.

"One is the increase in population, and the other is the inflationary spiral.

"This is completely false as indicated by the figures. What has occurred is that we have seen bureaucracy on the march. We know that government cannot make men prosperous any more than it can make men good.

"It can merely seize and divide up what individuals produce. Government can give the people nothing which government has not first taken away from them.

"Unless the people of this state are willing to elect public officials who recognize this principle of government, the state is very soon going to become another counterpart of bankrupt Michigan!"

Thus are the foibles of government portrayed!

SMALL SMOKE DAMAGE

Dr. H. R. Moore Is Advanced by Electro-Optical

DR. HORACE R. MOORE of 289 E. Grand View, Sierra Madre, has been named manager of the newly-formed Spectroscopy Department of the Quantum Electronics Division, Electro-Optical, Inc., with headquarters at 125 N. Vinedo Ave., Pasadena, according to an announcement by the company.

Dr. Moore received his B.S., M.S., and Ph.D. degrees from the University of New Zealand, Canterbury College, Christchurch, New Zealand. He joined Electro-Optical in 1958.

MAIL BOX RECOVERED

Sierra Madre police recovered a mail box stolen from the premises of Arthur B. Colnon, 935 E. Grand View. Sgt. Homer A. Christiansen discovered the box in front of a home in the 600 E. Grand View block.

Heart Fund Chiefs Praise Their Aides

Sierra Madre volunteer workers did a bang-up job during the recent Heart Sunday Drive, completing their assignments and turning in their kits on schedule.

In emphasizing this, Mrs. Hazel Cyrus, Sierra Madre chairman, took the opportunity to thank the 138 fellow volunteers from Mrs. Herbert Philbrook, Los Angeles Heart Sunday chairman, down to Mrs. Barbara Miller-Jones for the wonderful job they accomplished. The total collected here was $1,377.92.

"We didn't quite reach last year's $1,471.54," said Mrs. Miller-Jones, "but if those we missed will mail in the envelopes we left, I know we can reach last year's total. It would be terrific if we could top it and reach $1,500.

"HELP US protect your heart from this greatest killer of all. Who knows, you may be the ONE, of the 1 out of 2, who will need the help your contribution will give. We have done all we can. The rest is up to you.

"Our sincere thanks for all the hard work of these section chairmen and their crews:

"Mrs. Anthony Brigilio, Mrs. H. B. Herrin, Mrs. Gretchen Newbery, Mrs. Mel Stine, Mrs. L. N. Franco, Mrs. C. H. Milton, Mrs. T. N. Stack, Mrs. A. A. Nummelin, Mrs. J. Fisher, Mrs. J. H. Case, Mrs. Robert Michael, Mrs. Hazel Cyrus, Mrs. J. Bowman, Mrs. F. Jefferson and Mrs. T .C. Redman.'"

The Public Imprint to Which We Are Beholden

The late Victor Lawson, one of the founders of the Associated Press and then editor and publisher of the Chicago Daily News, once characterized a newspaper as "a private business with a public imprint."

No business can continue to operate unless it makes a profit and a non-profit enterprise is not safe for its employes, nor for the community.

It can stand quiescent with the status-quoers or it can advocate a spirit of public service, urge progress, for if its editor is clear-thinking he well knows that the minute a city stops progress it begins to retrograde—and decay.

Today the editor of a newspaper also faces another tremendous and vital problem—that of battling Pinkism and its big brother, Communism.

He knows full well—better than most people—just how serious the situation is in America, particularly in our State of California and especially in this area in which are situated Caltech, center of the U.S. government's missile and space experimentation and vital electronics industries.

This editor knows that a fine young couple who, in a spirit of genuine Americanism, wrote patriotic letters which the SIERRA MADRE NEWS published, were threatened anonymously over the telephone to the extent that they felt it necessary to change their phone number.

HE KNOWS that an otherwise fine Sierra Madre old lady, who couldn't see properly because of our darkened streets, was stopped by a policeman for driving on the wrong side of the street.

He is cognizant also that this otherwise sweet old lady complained to the officer who rightfully stopped and admonished her that he was "just like that radical rabble-rouser who edits the newspaper in this town."

He knows, too, that an official who sits high in an important post in the Sierra Madre government has asked "What is the matter with that editor of our newspaper?"

It is people such as these who would try to stop the wheels of progress in Sierra Madre. This they cannot do. Witness our new sewers, our new Mira Monte Reservoir, the proposed new rose bush row for Memorial Park, the gift of the fine and ever-progressive Civic Club—Lord bless them—the new apartment houses springing up, the new Canyon Fire Station soon to be built.

The status-quoers in Sierra Madre do not know it but they are the innocent dupes of the conspirators who would destroy the United States government — this Republic of the People, By the People and For the People, because killing off progress in this country as well as destruction of our monetary system is a steadfast Communist aim.

WE PLEAD "Not Guilty" to being "a radical rabble-rouser."

We admit that we do advocate making this a modern, up-to-the-minute little city, one with an adequate street lighting system so that our boys and girls—their adults, too—will be safer nights from perverts, rapists and other criminals, some murderously inclined.

We admit that we approve the improvement program set in motion by City Council and City Administrator Lawrence C. Bevington—even though we do not always agree with the latter. We admit that we are for the program set in motion by the City Parks and Recreation Commission, the hilltop zoning ordinance, and the splendid efforts of the Coordinating Council under that grand little enterpriser, Eleana Brown. We are glad to have backed the Sierra Madre Nursery School Association in its efforts to erect an addition to its present establishment and to stand behind the Red Cross in its fund campaign.

We admit that we backed annexation of our school district to the Pasadena District so that our children may be afforded wider and better educational facilities.

We admit that we have fought the Pinkos and fellow-travelers who would have the United States a Moscow satellite.

These things we admit—gladly so—for they mean these two things:

1—The improvement of our city.

2—Keeping Sierra Madre, the beautiful Little Foothill City of Livability, all-American.

And if that be rabble-rousing, dear lady who, in the darkness of our streets, couldn't see which side of the street to drive on, we glory in the appellation.

Our New 'Rosebud Row'

Rosebud Row for Memorial Park!

It's a splendid project which the up-and-at-'em members of the Civic Club have undertaken as a means of helping to beautify Memorial Park.

Roses are one of the Southland's finest flowers—Northern California can raise wonderful camellias, but cannot produce good roses—and bushes will certainly provide a galaxy of color and bloom for one of Sierra Madre's recreation centers.

Take a Bow, Art Kelly!

Kudos to Art Kelly and his Street Department buckeroos.

Those newly-painted trash can beginning to make their appearance on Sierra Madre streets are dillies. Just what the city needed to give it a fresh spring uplift.

Oh, Boy! Are they colorful—and we do spell out "colorful"?—gray and canary yellow sides, mostly a red and yellow cover, plus the city emblem on two sides.

Gaily, they constitute signs of progress. And the nice thing is that they cost only the paint job because they are those old drab-colored trash cans refurbished.

Take a bow, Art Kelly!

'Song Of Siberia'

FOREWORD: We have read of how a bunch of young Hungarians, exiled to Siberia following the Budapest revolt, strove to get back to Budapest a militant song of freedom composed by one of their number, David, kicked to death by a brutal Communist Russian colonel, their captor. How they suceeded in this has been related in previous chapters. Now go on with the story.

By Den and Martha Murray

Kyra sat down in a vacuum. None seemed willing to challenge her opinion. Even that fierce-visaged guerilla of the hills, Fodhadnagy—fiery apostle of violence in any and all forms against the Russians—appeared to be weighing the possibilities of this comparatively bloodless surgery on the enemy.

Prof. Arpad, his recent sunless existence lending him the appearance of the cadavers he formerly dissected for classes in anatomy at the University of Szeged, and acting chairman, finally spoke: "It is unnecessary to decide whether our eloquent young sister is right or not. We simply haven't any other weapons available. Nor the manpower to use them effectively if we did.

"But I've heard what this song did in the Cafe Istaban from a number of credible witnesses. I accept the fact of its inspiring, recuperative effect on broken-spirited people. I should like very much to see what it would do if disseminated among enslaved people everywhere."

* * *

KAROLYI, lanky, whimsical owner of but one eye since the October uprising, unfolded to his feet.

"I'm ready to try it. But if we do it, we must do it right. I've lived and worked in America — as I've never let any of you forget. This sort of project is right up their alley—as they put it. They know how to popularize a song. They even mount vast promotional campaigns behind wretched caterwauling that has you humming it before you know it.

"Now, there are sympathetic Americans in West Berlin. There are also Hungarian-American dollars to pay for printing, recording and other production costs. Excellent German technicians are there with the know-how, the facilities, the freedom to work unmolested. None of these necessary prerequisites do we have here in Budapest. I move that we send this project to Berlin."

Prof. Arpad inquired, "How would we get it there?"

"I'll take it to Berlin!" The speaker had shot to his feet, a taut-voiced youth with white, cameo-like features.

Prof. Arpad shook his head with a reluctant little smile. "You would never make it, Bela. You look too much like a fallen angel. They'd be certain to grab you and break you."

"I don't care what I look like!" he cried with eye-turning bitterness. "I want to get out of Hungary more than anything in this world! This is my chance. I fought hard. I've earned it!"

Arpad said gently, "You're worn out, Bela. Rest is what you need." He shifted back to Karolyi who had remained standing. "You wished to add something, Karolyi?"

"Yes. I can get it to Berlin. It will be simple. I'll memorize the words and melody. With my blessed uncle retaining his high party post in East Berlin I can procure papers that will take me that far. Crossing over into the west sector is no problem."

"Two is better than one!" Bela insisted. "Why don't you—"

"Why don't you shut up!" roared Fodhadnagy the guerilla leader, jerking him down in his seat.

* * *

CHAPTER 26

THE CHAIRMAN persisted patiently with Karolyi. "And if you are successful and obtain the considerable bulk of printed and recorded material you describe, how do we get that material back here to Budapest?"

"Fodhadnagy!" barked Fodhadnagy, glaring around daring them to challenge his ability. "Get that stuff to the Austrian border and Ill guarantee it gets the rest of the way to Budapest. My boys are just itching to put their hands to a little activity."

Chairman Arpad scanned the faces of the others. Aside from Bela's sulk there was no sign of dissent. He said:

"Very well, Karolyi takes the song to Berlin. Meanwhile, we suspend all operations. We don't even meet. Let Commissar Vilanovitch be lulled into a state of sublime tranquility. If something comes of this song project—we will need the element of surprise.

At the Budapest railroad station Karolyi's passport and visa were found in order. But then he and his bag were conducted into an anteroom by two members of Vilanovitch's Security Police. While one ransacked his belongings in the bag, the other began a probing examination of his person. Clothes and shoes were first. Then the black eyepatch was lifted and the vacant socket scrutinized suspiciously.

"My uncle isn't going to like this when I tell him," smiled Karolyi grimly. "Reflects on his party standing. For your sakes let us pray he isn't transferred here."

The Hungarian creatures of Commissar Vilanovitch exchanged glances. The East Berlin Karolyi was indeed a man of influence. With lowering scowls they cut short the search and waved Karolyi to the train.

CHAPTER 27

COL. TORNOV sat at a desk innocent of any evidence of unfinished work. Consequently he was restless. You didn't win a generalship in the Red Army twiddling your thumbs.

Young Lt. Pavlichenko came through the open door from the outer office and brought up saluting crisply. "You sent for me, sir?"

Tornov nodded curtly, "Yes, I take it you haven't run across the song in your nocturnal ramblings."

"No, sir."

The lieutenant added, "That is, sir, I'm not yet certain I did."

Tornov turned with acid quizzicalness. "Would you mind explaining?"

Pavlichenko said, "Five nights ago I was attracted to a place called Cafe Istaban by the sound of mass singing. It's below street level in the student section. I ran down the steps to find myself blocked by the crowd. The melody they were singing was new to me. I was pushing through to catch the words when the lights went out."

"Go on."

The lieutenant said uncomfortably "That was all there was to it. They stopped singing instantly and didn't resume when the lights came back on."

"And you suspect they stopped because you showed up?"

"Yes, sir."

"Why?"

"Because the proprietor blamed the blackout on power failure. Yet, when I inquired I found it was the only place in the neighborhood whose lights failed. I think he pulled the switch."

The colonel demanded, "You were that close and couldn't make out a single word or phrase of the song they were singing?"

Young Pavlichenko stammered, "I — I thought I understood one phrase, sir. I was going to—"

"What was it?" Tornov was bending forward intently.

" 'Oh my brothers' ".

Tornov relaxed back in his chair. Inside he was experiencing a feeling of vast relief. He had played it correctly. The dogs hadn't lied. The song was known in Budapest. To have wiped out the infected car in contravention of Moscow's policy would have been a stupid, unnecessary blunder.

Lt. Pavlichenko was explaining, "I delayed reporting this, sir, because—"

"Never mind," waved Tornov. "We'll drop it now. . . . Tell me, during your visits to these places, what has been your impression of Hungarian morale? Their espirit de corps, so to speak?"

"Well sir, they are certainly not doing much singing. Except for the one instance just cited I found the cafes poorly attended and quiet."

"You would say their will to resist is broken?" It was as if he were almost demanding an affirmative answer.

He got it. "Definitely, sir."

Tornov arose with visible satisfaction. "Thank you, lieutenant." He returned the lieutenant's salute and waited until the latter was gone before following. Passing through his idle office personnel he flung: "I'm going up to see the commissar." At the door he turned and added cryptically, "Pass this word down to all departments: long range plans predicated on an extended stay in Budapest would be unwise." He went out taking their stares with him.

* * *

CHAPTER 28

COMMISSAR VILANOVITCH and Col. Tornov were not seeing eye to eye on the present situation. As the penal transportation expert of the Red Army saw it—his job here in Budapest was finished. Indeed, in his mind's eye he already had them entering in his service dossier: "Budapest - Siberia Task accomplished without incident."

But the commissar was picturing something else. "I repeat, Tornov, you don't know these Hungarians. I'll concede they're quiescent right now. But bitter experience has taught me that that's the very moment to expect a violent flareup. You simply must remain on here with your unit until I can be sure."

"What! Sit here with an idle force of specialists and rusting rolling stock while your Hungarians leisurely recharge their batteries and consider whether or not to cause you future trouble? No, no, Comrade Vilanovitch. I'm no chair warmer. This is a criminal waste. I'm reporting the situation to my superiors and asking for immediate leave or reassignment."

He got up with an air of uncompromising finality. The commissar accompanied him to the door with a friendly hand riding on his square shoulder.

"I must of course oppose your departure. You and your Siberian vacation trains ready on the sidings are too valuable a deterrent to be lightly surrendered."

He chuckled appreciatively. "Those trains slake their thirst for travel."

CHAPTER 29

KAROLYI sat in a small office in the same building that housed Radio Free Europe. With him was the young German, Albert, who had been his constant companion and guide since his arrival in West Berlin a week ago.

It had been a tense, deflating week. It had begun when figuratively 'hat in hand' he had knocked on the door and announced: "I am Karolyi of the Hungarian Freedom Fighters. I bring you a song."

What a way to have had to approach important, busy people! Sitting here now he recalled his initial reception.

"Cold" certainly wasn't the word for it. Nor "reserved." "Sympathetic' came closer.

They had acted as if they thought him daft from the concussion of Russian tank' shells. But they had invited him to tell his story—while of course checking out his alleged identity among their many Hungarian refugee contacts.

And they had obligingly set up recording equipment into whose microphone he had wretchedly sung — in both Hungarian and English —David's song.

Afterwards they had let him fully explain what he and his colleagues in Budapest hoped could come from the song if given proper exploitation. Since then nothing had happened. He wasn't exactly a prisoner—yet they had politely insisted upon his remaining in West Berlin as their guest until 'the decision' was handed down by a somewhat mysterious body of individuals alluded to as "the council." It was this decision he was awaiting now.

The young German offered him a cigaret. He accepted it with thanks but pretended to have no matches. He was afraid his fingers would tremble the news of his intense fear of a turndown. Hungarian Freedom Fighters shouldn't be caught trembling! Albert lit him up and Karolyi asked with forced casualness, "How many are on the Council?"

Karolyi starred in surprise. "Never seen it?"

Another installment of "Song of Siberia next week.

A HIGH STANDARD of living can do us far more harm than good if it isn't accompanied by a high standard of civic and personal integrity.

* * *

IT DOESN'T take much imagination to picture America as a lovely, supermodern place in which most Americans can't afford to live. The rich will hide their money in Swiss banks and technically become citizens of some foreign land, while the persons who have only Social Security and pensions to live on will move to Mexico or some other spot where, the advertisers assure us, one can live grandly on $150 a month. Other day I read that thousands of retired Americans now live in Ireland, because living is cheaper there.

This is another example of the way our high standard of living, which so often means a higher standard than we should afford, is pricing us out of even our own market. It is one of the things which contribute to the outflow of gold reserves, too.

These are problems which can grow worse if the "American dream" is habitually based in bigger profits and bigger pay. After profit reaches the point of no return it doesn't take long for it to reach the point of no returns.

* * *

BUT LIFE is a perpetual wheel of fortune. A fool and his money are soon parted, but immediately afterwards the fool's dream is to regain enough money to be foolish again.

* * *

THE SUPREME COURT of California has ruled that a school board may not deny an organization the privilege of meeting in the school just because its representatives will not sign a loyalty oath, and many of us leap to the false conclusion that anyone who won't sign the oath must be Communistic.

That is dangerous. It is and should be lawful to arrest anyone who preaches treason, but it is dictatorial to deny any group the right of peaceful assembly and discussion on the assumption that something treasonable may be said or done.

Among those protesting the loyalty oath in San Diego the other day were prominent Methodists and Unitarians, doubtless devotedly Americans who honestly felt denying other taxpayers the right to meet and discuss in a publicly-owned building was a denial of civil liberties.

I have signed many loyalty oaths, having made many talks to teachers' institutes, and to me it seems only a technicality.

But I know some mighty good Americans, who proudly fought for their country in war and would do it again, who will not sign loyalty oaths because they consider them an insult.

The right to peaceful assembly and discussion, they argue, was what their forebears fought for in the Revolution.

Letters to The Editor

Dear Editor:

Enclosed is my delinquent $3 for our subscription to the Sierra Madre News. I wonder how many of our fellow-citizens have neglected to keep current in the matter of paying the very reasonable cost of this fine paper? I bet there are many who are in arrears and they ought to feel as guilty as I do.

The SIERRA MADRE NEWS deserves our support. Whether we always agree with you or not, your paper has more courage than all the downtown papers put together. I like it when you slash away at the Communists and the Pinks. I say, "Pour it on 'em! This community doesn't need them and doesn't want them.'"

I am enjoying "Song of Siberia.' It is a fine, 'moving story, and I think it would make a great motion picture. However, to be truthful, I miss "The Teenager and the Hermit." Will they be back in the paper after the story is concluded?

—B. E. LAMBDIN.

Dear Editor:

May I again compliment you on several of your recent editorials: "To Mr. College Professor," "The Dupes Unduped," "We'll Continue to Fight 'Pinkism' and Communism" and "The Harsh Enormity."

Newspapers, as well as politicians, gain in public opinion and approval, not by straddling, but by forthright stands. You have taken forthright stands, and I compliment you. These are able editorials and very timely.

—Edgar W. Hiestand, M.C.

Dear Editor:

This city must get going!

In a way, this city is moving ahead by installing sewer lines in almost every street in Sierra Madre.

But I think that our city is ruining its "quaintness and beauty" with a big black "stripe" of black asphalt down every road.

And even before sewers were mentioned, the streets were ugly. Streets like Esperanza and Ramona. Ramona is in bad shape in the 200-300 block.

On Manzanita there was a fairly good conditoned block right next to the city limits. It was paved beautifully and Ramona was neglected.

Right now, Ramona has an uneven pavement, no curbs, chuckholes, glass and sand and the street cleaner is never on that block because it is practically all dirt.

Something must be done.

—DAVID CASON.

Dear Editor:

Enclosed you will find our subscription renewal for another year of Sierra Madre News. We find your paper a weekly delight to receive and always look forward to reading about our former friends and neighbors.

Since moving to the St. Louis area last August we have been filled with regret for having to leave our lovely litle town in the foothills of the Sierra Madres. After the weather we have been experiencing here the last few months we are filled with envy when we read the weekly high and low temperatures in the paper.

Anyway, keep it coming—we promise to be back some day. . . I wonder if these corporations realize that they should consider a town's personality when they transfer us poor souls.

—Mrs. Rudolph L. Biller,
1447 Fawnvalley Dr.,
St. Louis 31, Mo.

Dear Editor:

You are doing a lot for the Sierra Madre News and a lot for the townspeople. Your editorials I like and also the local news.

It would be a fine thing for the artists, writers and other creative people to have a column or section once a month, or more often, to tell of their doings.

Some person might be glad to do it as a hobby and list their phone to take notes for you. Some artists are shy about sending into the paper directly.

—Myrtle Weese.

OUT OF THE COBWEBS

53 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK, March 6, 1908—The honor of having made the best run up Mt. Wilson Trail has been in dispute for some time, and the matter will soon be officially settled. Last summer, J. C. Wright made the distance from the foot of the trail to the peak, some eight or nine miles, in 1 hour, 54 minutes. On Feb. 1 last, Paul Reinwald made the trip in 1 hour, 50½ minutes, while Eugene Estopey claims to have made a record of 1 hour and 50 minutes. The matter came to the attention of Charles J. Fox, son of Richard K. Fox of the Police Gazette, and he arranged to offer a prize of a gold medal worth $50 to the champion climber in a contest in the near future. The contest will be open to all.

21 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK, March 9, 1940—Nominating petitions in circulation yesterday and which are expected to be filed before noon Saturday, indicate contests for the positions of city clerk and city treasurer at the April 9 municipal elections. One paper carried the name of Edwin W. Ward Jr., president of the Sierra Madre School Board, as a candidate for city treasurer. City Treasurer Carlton J. Pegler, now serving his 28th year in that position, filed his nominating petition three weeks ago. Leland Fogg's name appeared in another petition as a candidate for city clerk, the position held the past four years by Waverly E. Pratt, who is a candidate for reelection.

11 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK, March 2, 1950—Six persons earlier this week announced candidacies for election to the City Council. They are Councilman William A. Kinney who seeks reelection; Mrs. Rebecca B. Colligan, active Red Cross worker; Arthur Hewitt, editor of the Sierra Madre News; Al S. Myers, former mayor and city business manager; Francis Eakman, food products distributor, and Atty. Noren Eaton. As the News was going to press, still another filing was announced by City Clerk Lawrence Brain. He is Alexander Black, a Navy veteran and representative for the American Can Company.

★ ★ ★

6 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK, March 3, 1955—Sierra Madre has a new mayor. He is Charles H. James, senior member of City Council, who was unanimously chosen at the Council meeting on Feb. 23 to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Charles E. Louk who was named postmaster of Sierra Madre on Dec 31 last. Mayor James who when not functioning on the Council is assistant West Coast regional manager of the Lederle Laboratories Division of American Cyanamid Co., lives at 110 Ranch Rd. with his wife and two children.

The new minister of the Congregational Church, assuming his pulpit duties March 13, will be Rev. George W. Lindsay ,who is moving here from Berkeley with his wife and family.

Southern Cal Presbyterians In Hollywood Meeting to Consider 4-Church Merger

United Presbyterians of Southern California will consider the recent proposal of their chief executive officer for a merger of four major denominations at the meeting of the Los Angeles Presbytery next Tuesday (March 14) at First Presbyterian Church of Hollywood, 1760 N. Gower St., starting at 10 a.m.

Presiding at the meeting, which continues through Wednesday afternoon, will be Dr. William M. MacInnes, Presbytery moderator. Dr. Raymond I. Lindquist, host pastor will welcome some 800 delegates and visitors from the 199 individual congregations in Los Angeles, Orange and San Diego counties.

Plan of merger was proposed by Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, stated clerk of the United Presbyterian General Assembly and former Pasadena pastor, in a sermon delivered in San Francisco last December.

THE SPECIFIC proposal was for a merger of the United Presbyterian Church, Protestant Episcopal Church, Methodist Church and United Church of Christ, with other denominations subscribing to the overall plan to be invited to join in subsequent merger conversations among the churches.

Other highlights of the two-day session include election of a moderator for the summer meeting of the Presbytery, which runs from May to November, and election of commissioners (voting delegates) to the 173rd General Assembly, supreme governing body of the church, which meets in Buffalo, N.Y., May 17-24.

A feature of the Tuesday afternoon session (at approximately 3:30 p.m.) will be an address by Dr. Alfred Schroeder of the Evangelical Church of Germany, who is in charge of all church-related youth work in the Berlin area.

General sessions of the two-day meeting are open to the public.

Dr. Schaper on Rose Bowl Easter Sunrise Committee

Dr. Robert N. Schaper, 501 Crestvale Dr., Sierra Madre, pastor of the Bethany Church, has been elected to serve on the 1961 Rose Bowl Easter Sunrise Service committee.

Rev. Mr. Schaper has been named advisor to the group and also coordinator of the 13th annual program scheduled this year for April 2, at 6 a.m. Thousands are expected to gather this year at the Rose Bowl, coming from cities in many parts of the Southland.

Dr. Bob Pierce, president of World Vision, Inc., of Pasadena, is the featured speaker. He will make the address shortly after returning from extensive ministries in India and Asia on behalf of World Vision, a missionary service organization.

Also featured in the program are the varied Easter musical presentations to be made by the Haven of Rest radio quartet of Hollywood, the La Verne College (Calif.) Choir and also by the full Los Angeles Pacific College choral.

The program will be broadcast live over the ABC radio network in 11 Western states.

Women to Discuss Church Advances

Mmes. L. P. Marsh, M. N. Olson and O. E. Robinson will discuss, respectively, "Winning the Outsider," "World Missions," and "A Map Study of World Missions."

Mrs. Clinton W. Symonds, Study Group president, invites all interested to attend this meeting.

Twins Baptized

Twins were baptized for the first time at the Shepherd of the Hills Lutheran Church on Sunday, Feb. 19. They are William James and John Charles, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander McDonald of 167 E. Highland, Sierra Madre.

Women Will Hear Missionary Talk

Mrs. Norma Brookhart, former missionary to Liberia, will speak at the general meeting of the women of the Shepherd of the Hills Lutheran Church at 8 p.m. today. Officers will be elected.

Meaning of Miracle Is Hansen Topic

"The Meaning of a Miracle" will be the sermon of Rev. Ray E. Hansen at Shepherd of the Hills Lutheran Church, 33 E. Sierra Madre Blvd., Sierra Madre, at 10:10 a.m. Sunday.

"When Christ fed the crowd on the shores of the sea by using only a few loaves and fishes He did more than magic," the pastor will say." He performed a miracle upon the human nature of the multitude that is greater than any magic. The power of Christ still does this for people who will hear His teaching today."

THE CHOIR, directed by Charles E. Markham, will sing "We Praise Our God," from "Finlandia."

Sunday School classes for all ages will be at 9 a.m.

At the midweek service at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, the pastor will continue the meditation series on the last week of Christ's life, showing how and why Jesus died on the Cross.

Living color pictures are featured, and the choir will sing "I Love Thy Kingdom, Lord."

The Sunday evening feature is being presented by the congregation's Board of Christian Education, with the aim of acquainting all members of the church and people of the community with the current peril posed by the Communist conspiracy.

C. of C. Backs Business Day For Youth

Chamber of Commerce directors at their monthly session Tuesday in the meeting room at the First Western Bank, 100 W. Sierra Madre Blvd., placed the organization solidly behind "Youth in Business and Industry Day" scheduled for Tuesday, April 18.

The directors, with President John H. Curtis presiding, urged all businessmen and industrialists in Sierra Madre to open their doors for from three to four hours April 18, affording students a thorough insight into their methods of business and enterprise.

FOLLOWING a report by a committee comprising David L. Roess, Ralph G. Hurwit and Robert H. Green, the directors voted to hold quarterly luncheons for all C. of C. members and monthly breakfasts for the directors.

Fire Marshal Bert Embree spoke concerning Cleanup Days in May. This year there will be a return to the practice of permitting dumping of refuse in the city yards, which has proved more successful.

"And did I want to bet $5 that I could hit one of the remaining bottles with his rifle?

"I declined these offers and asked how it was they had climbed all the way up here for target practice.

"They said they had heard that some of their friends at school had become lost while hiking in the area and they had come up to rescue them. 'But why the rifles,' I asked. 'Did you think your friends were being held captive by Indians?' And why had they abandoned the search?"

* * *

'GOT A FLASH, Mac,' said one. 'Hot flash right out of this little ol' buzz box.' With that he turned a nob on a little cigar box-sized gadget and started deafening me with terrible blasts of this modern youth music.

"Over the horrible noise he was screaming that this was a transistor radio, and that they had gotten a news report on it revealing that their friends had been found by the Sierra Madre Mountain Search and Rescue Team, and so had turned their attention to shooting at things.

"I hurried away from the frightful noise and that's all.

"'Except I just want to say that if these mountains are going to resound to such ear-splitting cacophony, do not expect to find any wild creatures when you come up here. They'll move away.

"In fact, I'm afraid that is what they were doing when they rushed past me. After all, they've become somewhat used to gun fire. But the sounds that come from those terrible buzz boxes are new and terrifying. They wouldn't be able to stand it. Neither would I. If I don't move away with them, I'll at least be praying for deafness."

TEENAGER: "We answered the old coot's questions. Say! Do you suppose he's got stocks and bonds and cabbage hoarded away in that cave of his? One of the guys swears he's bound to have.

"Anyway, he don't like progressive jazz. He stuck his fingers in his ears an' cut out for his cave. You sure got some weird-ball friends!"

. . . No!!

Market Managers

Shopping Bag Food Stores in Eagle Rock, was transferred to the San Gabriel Store (this store was later sold), where he spent three years as assistant manager, another two and one-half years in the then new Monterey Park store.

Promoted to manager of the old No. 1 store in Tujunga where he stayed for two and one-half years, he then was transferred to take over at the Sierra Madre-Hastings Center branch.

He has been married for 15 years and lives in the La Canada foothill area with his wife and two teenage children.

ONE YEAR AGO Von's Company and Shopping Bag merged. Two old Southern California families founded each firm. Rube Hayden founded the Shopping Bag and Charles Van de Ahe founded Von's.

As a result, a new firm of 73 stores was established and will meet every challenge and create new opportunities to supply old customers and the ever growing new ones with the best in food merchandising, Milt Piuma asserts.

Don't impede progress—if you must kick, kick toward the goal.

Mrs. Barrett Member of Demo Panel

Mrs. Lenore Barrett, chairman of the 21st Congressional District, Democratic Council, and Jim Holt, chairman of the 48th Assembly District, Democratic Council, will participate in a panel report of the California Democratic Council Convention and Issues Conference to be presented to the Sierra Madre Democratic Club at the next regular meeting, Monday, March 13, at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Edith Dane, 566 Manzanita Ave., Sierra Madre.

The CDC Convention was held in Santa Monica March 3-5. Delegates and alternates attending from the Sierra Madre club were Mrs. Nina Howbert, Mrs. Sarah Posthill and Mrs. Evelyn Sloman. The convention elected Tom Garvey, Palos Verdes missile executive, to be its president by an almost 2 to 1 margin over the rival candidate from Northern California.

Other items of business before the local club next Monday will be the outlining of plans and programs for the coming year and election of a new treasurer to replace Mrs. Margaret Lathe.

The girls cordially urge all their friends in the community to attend this demonstration of Girl Scouting.

Girl Scout Sunday is March 12. Girls will attend the church of their choice and the occasion will be recognized by all the churches of the community.

To commemorate "Thinking Day," Feb. 22, the Girl Scouts presented to the Public Library a book entitled "Trefoil Around the World," a story of Girl Scouting and Girl Guiding in many lands.

More About Todt

when he said:

"Communism can be pushed back, in this country especially, if the businessmen and people in general will roll up their sleeves and go to work on the problem alloutedly. But this they must do if this nation and its Free Enterprise System is to be saved."

THE SPEAKER deplored the policy of Washington administrations extending cash grants amounting to billions of dollars to foreign nations since the end of World War II, adding that it has only made enemies of people envious of us.

"This policy has been and is all wrong," he asserted. "Instead, we should give them food from the immense amount we have grown and stored away. They will then know that their real help is coming from the United States, and this will make them true and lasting friends."

At his conclusion, Todt read slowly Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, making clear his point that unless American businessmen get going in an all-out fight against the Communists, the Lenin-Marxist, atheistic type of government will replace this "Republic of the people, by the people and for the people."

HE WAS given a standing ovation.
